Eurypedia is an EU website that aims to present the most accurate picture of national education systems across Europe

. It includes information about specific education systems as well as analysis of educational issues at European level. In total 38 school and university systems are presented in this European educational website, that was developed by

Eurydice Network

Eurypedia was launched on October 2011 and all its contents are expected to be finalised by December 2011.
